

I am currently the Headteacher of Black Horse Junior School, where I started in 2018. I qualified as a teacher from John Moores University in 1999, specialising in Physical Education, which has always been a passion of mine. Since qualifying, I have worked in a range of schools, from the most affluent to the most deprived areas of the North West and have taken on a number of different subject leader roles. Before joining Black Horse Hill Juniors, I was deputy head at a school in Cheshire West for 7 years. Outside of education, I relax by painting portraits and gain valuable head space by running and cycling. I enjoy playing and watching most sports.
